Report On Urban Renewal Studied

Sketches and plans for proposed development of the Urban Renewal Area in Andover, which are now on display in the conference room of the Town House are attracting much interest from citizens.

The report of the consultants was received by local officials last week and are now under study.
The survey was made by the firm of Adams, Howard and Greeley, consultants to the Andover Planning Board.

The report offers a number of changes from an earlier report on the federally aided plan.

A new town hall would be erected at the site of the Musgrove building, while a new fire station would be placed on the land of the municipal parking area.

Elm square would be eliminated through the relocation of several streets, creating new and separated intersections.

Provisions are made for shaded parking areas in the rear of stores in the business section.

The report made last week is a Wedding . . .

O'CONNOR - COOKSON
Of interest to Andover residents was the marriage at the Church of the Assumption, Peekskill, N.Y., of Miss Julianne F. Cookson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Cookson, 304 Walnut st., Peekskill, who formerly resided in Andover, to Hugh Wiseman O'Connor, son of Eugene O'Connor of Dublin, Ireland, and the late Dr. Nora Wiseman O'Connor.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Donald Casey, M. M., who celebrated the nuptial Mass.

The bride's brothers, Mr. Edmund L. Cookson, M. M., and Peter J. Cookson were the acolytes.

Miss Irene E. Cookson was maid of honor for the bride and the best man was Michael O'Carroll of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Dublin. The ushers were John P. Cookson, O.C., brother of the bride, Francis Mahoney, Kevin Mahoney and Kevin Madden.

Escorted by her father the bride wore a gown of off-white silk organza with a fitted bodice of Alencon lace and a full skirt with a short train trimmed with a panel of lace. Her tulle veil was attached to a headpiece of tulle flowers and she carried a missal with white roses and stephanotis.

Her attendant wore Nile green silk organza with a wreath of ivy and pink geraniums and she carried an old-fashioned bouquet of pink geraniums.

After a reception the couple left on a trip to the northeast. They will reside in Wollaston where Mr. O'Connor is employed as a research and development engineer with the Walworth Vale Company.

The bride, whose mother is the former Irene Poisson of Andover, is a graduate for the Foreign Trade School of the Latin American Institute, New York city, and studied at the School of Foreign Service, Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., and the University of Barcelona School of Summer Studies, Palma, Majorca. She was a personnel technician at the Veterans Administration hospital, Bronx, N. Y.

Mr. O'Connor is a graduate of the University College of Dublin and received a master's degree from the School of Engineering, Cornell University.

It is under the operational command of Amphibious Squadron Ten, operating out of Norfolk, Va. Six ships carrying nearly 5,000 Navy and Marines will be involved.

Units participating in the exercise are expected to return to Norfolk early in September.

WINS HONORS AT PURDUE

Robert Van Dewoestine, 1 Vine st., was one of 651 students at Purdue University who attained the Distinguished Rating in their work for the second semester of the 1961-62 academic year, according to the list announced by the Office of the Registrar. EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Another Welcome Home

When the Boys Come Marching Home after a shooting war, there is a great deal of fanfare on the part of an appreciative public. Far less dramatic will be the return to this country of thousands of National Guardsmen and Reserves called to duty only a year ago.

It was in July of 1961 when the growing Berlin crisis caused President Kennedy to activate 155,000 "weekend warriors" to beef up the American strength in Europe.

The men were ordered to duty in October and in a very short time had been transported overseas. Air National Guardsmen and Reserves who were only a few weeks away from civilian activities were able to fly more than two hundred aircraft overseas to bases in France and Germany without loss of a single plane.

These men reactivated closed down facilities in Europe and became front line soldiers almost overnight.

Major General Donald W. McGowan, chief of the National Guard Bureau called the mobilization "the most successful in the history of the United States."

At the time, President Kennedy pointed out that the element of time in the growing Berlin crisis was so great that the country could not expend the time to train raw recruits sent from the Selective Service boards. Calling up the National Guard and the Reserves caused a great deal of hardship in some cases.

At the outset, the "gripes" were far more publicized than was the general cooperation and willingness of the men called to active duty.

A year has passed quickly. The National Guardsmen and Reserves will be sent back to their civilian employment in a few more weeks. But the mobilization of a year ago proved many things.

It was the first time in the history of the United States that the reserve forces were at a high enough level of readiness to represent an immediate show of force when they were called to active duty.

As in all wars or threats of wars, Andover's young men who are members of the National Guard and the Reserves contributed their share to the Nation's cause.

We salute them for a job well done.

Around The World

The name of Andover was very much in the news the past week. It was a case of the name being the same, for the big news was being made at Andover, Maine, which was the key land point for the first international television broadcasts.

It's always nice to hear the name of Andover, and it was heard a great deal through the broadcasting of the exciting accounts of the new Telstar satellite of the American Telephone and Telegraph company now orbiting the world.

It was not only in the identity of names that Andover shared in this great undertaking.

Many Andover residents who are employed at the big plant of the Western Electric company in North Andover used their skills to make the experimental project possible. It was at the suburban plant that some of the most important elements of the new satellite were made.

Quartz crystal made at the Western Electric plant is riding around the world inside the Telstar. This same crystal is being used at the tracking station at Andover, Maine.

It is said that the flashing of television pictures between the United States and Europe is one of the most important steps in communications since the laying of the Atlantic cable.

When big events occur, some connection can generally be found to associate Andover with the undertaking.

What Our Readers Say—

To the Editor of the Townsman:
"Perhaps the problem in comprehending the recent decision of the U.S. court stems mostly from the condition that the United States is under Liberty however much many individuals wish to be under God, or whatever seems best to them."

"The Preamble of the Federal Constitution declares what the United States wishes to achieve: "... the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity..." It also names the means by which it shall seek that aspiration. No where does it mention God or supernatural religion.

"Accordingly, Andover's public school might well consider being opened and closed each day with a reading of the Preamble. That is a ritual most likely to inculcate in the young the exceptional substance and high purpose of the nation of which they are a part, and are duty bound to serve before all other things."

Karl Haartz

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ferrier spent a few days at their summer home at Peter's Pond.

Watercolor Society Has Art Exhibit

The 95th annual traveling exhibition of the American Watercolor Society is now in progress at the Lamont art gallery at Phillips Academy in Exeter, N. H. The display opened Monday and will continue through August 4.

The paintings represent the work of artists from all over the country. Most of the watercolors are academic in character with only a very few abstract paintings included. The most predominant characteristic of the exhibition is the intensity of color and the feeling that each painting is a strong statement of the individual artist. In many cases the enjoyment derived from the pictures is one of association rather than its thought-provoking characteristics. Landscapes predominate but the choice of landscape is many and varied and never fails to arouse the interest of the viewer.

The Lamont Art Gallery is open to the public and visitors are welcome at any time. Summer Gallery hours are: Monday - Saturday, 9 a.m.-12 noon; Monday and Wednesday evenings, 6-8 p.m. The Gallery is closed all day Sunday.

Two decades have passed since Battery F, with many Andover young men, left for service in World War I.

10 Years Ago — July, 1952

Edward A. Doherty has been named assistant recreation director and assigned to Pomp's Pond. He was recently named football coach here to succeed Walter C. Roberts.

A record 3,745,000 gallons of water was used on Tuesday because of the prolonged heat wave and dry spell.

Bus service was resumed after a 127 day strike of bus drivers. Those buses running in this town were reported as poorly patronized as most residents had become accustomed to other means of transportation.

More volunteer plane spotters are needed to man the local observation town on a 24-hour basis as ordered by the Defense Department.

The Andover Service Club will sponsor a "night" for the Junior League baseball team which it supports.

S/Sgt. Robert S. Lawrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lawrence, 25 Clark rd. has returned from duty in Korea with two citations.

COWS SET RECORDS

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America has announced the completion of outstanding official production records by registered Holstein cows in Andover.

Wild Rose Posch Orpha Esq. a five-year-old, produced 17,801 lbs. milk and 780 lbs. butterfat in 343 days. Wild Rose Deborah, a four-year-old, had 20,146 lbs. milk and 662 lbs. butterfat in 365 days. Both are owned by Sidney P. White, Wild Rose Farm.

In contrast, the annual production of the average U.S. dairy cow is generally estimated at approximately 7,000 lbs. of milk containing 265 lbs. of butterfat.

The University of Massachusetts supervised the weighing and testing of the new Holstein records as part of the breed's official herd testing programs.

Bernardin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bernardin, 11 Abbot st., Saturday, at St. James Church, South Deerfield. The 11:30 a.m. nuptial ceremony was performed by Rev. Leonard Perrault. Arrangements of white flowers banked the altar for the occasion.

Mrs. Edward W. Martin of Adams, guest organist, played the wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Graham White of Summit, N. J.

lines and brief sleeves. The bell skirts were appliqued with flowers and highlighted by narrow satin ribbon belts with bows in back. They wore matching spiral satin hats trimmed with flowers and carried cascades bouquets of yellow and white marguerites.

Victor Milot, S.M.

White snapdragons and carnations adorned the altar and satin bows marked the pews.

The bride, who was escorted by her brother, Philip J. Groleau, wore a gown of white silk organza over taffeta with a scalloped neckline etched with jewels and a bouffant skirt with beaded appliques and a bustle back that fell in a court train. lines and brief sleeves. The bell skirts were appliqued with flowers and highlighted by narrow satin ribbon belts with bows in back. They wore matching spiral satin hats trimmed with flowers and carried cascades bouquets of yellow and white marguerites.

The flower girl, niece of the bride, wore a Diorette gown of white embroidered organza over pale blue silk. A headband of roses adorned her head and she carried a basket of pale pink sweetheart roses.

The mother of the bride wore a cocoa linen sheath designed with a cotton lace bodice, short sleeves and round neckline. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a coral chiffon dress. Both wore matching accessories.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the garden at the home of the bride's parents in Sunderland.

The bride is a graduate of Vassar College and her husband was graduated from Phillips Academy, Princeton University and Harvard Law School. He is associated with Goodwin, Proctor and Hoar of Boston.

Upon return from a wedding trip to the Laurentians, Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Bernardin will reside in Brookline.

MARCOUX - GROLEAU

Miss Marion V. Groleau, daughter of Mrs. Emma Groleau, 133 Bowdoin st., Lawrence, and the late Philip L. Groleau, and Raymond Marcoux, son of Mrs. Mary Marcoux, 16 Juliette st. and the late Florian Marcoux, were united in marriage at a nuptial Mass at Sacred Heart Church, Lawrence, by Rev. Victor Milot, S.M.

White snapdragons and carnations adorned the altar and satin bows marked the pews.

The bride, who was escorted by her brother, Philip J. Groleau, wore a gown of white silk organza over taffeta with a scalloped neckline etched with jewels and a bouffant skirt with beaded appliques and a bustle back that fell in a court train. Her tiered veil of imported silk illusion was draped to a semi-coif of jeweled taffeta and she carried a tapered cascade of stephanotis and white rose florets centered with a blue tipped white orchid.

Mrs. Leah M. Timms was matron of honor and Mrs. Arline E. Soucy was bridesmaid. They wore floor length gowns of white silk organza over blue taffeta fashioned with scoop necklines, cap sleeves and bell shaped skirts adorned with appliqued flowers and held with cummerbunds of pleated satin. They wore matching coronation crowns with face veils.

The honor attendant carried a tapered cascade of blue feathered carnations, pink sweetheart roses and polished ivy, and the bride's bouquet combined blue feathered carnations and ivy.

Florian Marcoux was best man for his brother and the ushers were Robert J. Groleau and Lionel J. Morneau, the latter of Salem, N.H. Mrs. Arthur J. Scott presided at the organ.

Guests from Lynn, Chelmsford, and Warwick, R.I., attended a reception at Freedman's banquet hall.

After a wedding trip to New York and Canada the couple will reside on Cherry Hill cir., Methuen.

The bride attended the Sacred Heart School and the McIntosh School, Lawrence. The bridegroom attended Andover schools and Saunders Electronic School, Boston. He is employed by Sylvan Electronic, Needham.

GUEST PREACHER

Roland D. Seger was the guest preacher in the Ballard Vale United Church Sunday. Mr. Seger is a lay minister in the Congregational Church. His many friends in Ballardvale were happy to hear him again, as he was supply minister in the Congregational Church seven years ago for a year before the Methodist Church and the Congregational Church united. Mr. Seger's home is in Braintree. He is widely known for his lay ministry in churches and guest speaking in fraternal orders.

DENIED DIVORCE

An Andover man was denied a divorce by Judge John V. Phelan in Essex County Probate court at Salem last week.

Joseph C. Poremba, 34, 44 Red Spring rd. sought to divorce Mrs. Elizabeth G. Poremba, alleging cruelty. Judge Phelan dismissed the action saying Poremba had failed to sustain his allegations. The couple was married at Darmstadt, Germany, August 18, 1956. The libel set forth that Poremba did not know the address of his wife.

Ballardvale playground youngsters successfully defended their title at the inter-playground swimming meet held last Tuesday at Pump's Pond.

The Ballardvale swimmers captured the trophy on the final event when Charles Murnane, swimming in the boys free style race for 13-15 year-olds picked up five points for placing first, edging out Central playground in the final totals, 23-19.

Indian Ridge placed third in the meet with 15 points, all of which were scored by first place finishes. The first place winners were Linda Piercey, stone relay; Sandra Stone, back crawl and Douglas Audette, underwater swim.

Shawsheen playground was fourth with 11 points and West Center fifth with eight points.

The trophy will be on display at the Ballardvale Post Office.

just prior to the barbecue which is being sponsored by the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce and the Andover Board of Trade. Those desiring tickets (adults $1.50, children $1) have been urged to secure them by Friday. The committee desires to advise the caterer as to the number to expect at the event.

James Doherty of Andover is chairman of the barbecue. He estimates that more than 500 Greater Lawrence fans will be on hand to mingle with the football squad. Special guests will be coaches of the Greater Lawrence high schools.

Tickets for the barbecue may be obtained from the tax collector's office, the Doherty Insurance office, the Andover Country Club, and the Greater Lawrence Chamber office in the Bay State Building in Lawrence.

Drills Open Friday

The contact phase of Mike Holovak's first full season as head coach of the football Patriots will get underway Friday morning at 9 o'clock when 18 rookies and a few selected veterans will open training on the beautiful Andover campus.

By Monday morning, virtually the entire squad of some 60 athletes will be in action preparing for the Patriots' third campaign in the still young American Football League.

Two prominent absentees then, but expected to join the squad before the training has progressed too long are Ross O'Hanley, the 1960 All-Star safetyman, and little Angelo Dabiero, Notre Dame's leading groundgainer last year.

O'Hanley is still in Europe with the 102nd Fighter Wing of the Air National Guard. Dabiero is with the College All-Stars in Chicago and will join the Pats August 6 after playing in that annual classic against the Green Bay Packers.

Jack Moynihan, former Central Catholic star, is one of the rookie quarterbacks coming to Andover with the Patriots.

Mr. and Mrs. James Schofield of Brookline, who were former residents of Ballardvale, left recently by bus on a western trip, which will take them to Canada, Yellowstone Park, San Francisco, Cal. and the Seattle World's Fair.

Little Stories about Great Hymns
Lead Kindly Light

Lead, kindly Light, amid the encircling gloom
Lead thou me on!
The night is dark, and I am far from home;
Lead thou me on!

Rev. John Henry Newman wrote this prayerful hymn in 1833 while becalmed on a Mediterranean cruise. He was in great spiritual anguish over conditions in his own church, and was contemplating accepting the Catholic religion. These words were a prayer to God for guidance. Later set to music by Dr. Dykes, the hymn became a great favorite, and was on the lips of President McKinley when he died.
